Hey, just to explain and more formally let people know about what's been going on with this music project...basically it currently consists of me (Kevin) putting some semi-recent music technological innovations to use in order to create a full sound with only one person performing. This is not to take away anything that has been done with the band with Jed, Alex, or Fernando as bassist and drummers, it's just how things have transpired since people have relocated and I really ... Some of you lasalle-Peru folks may have noticed I've been living in Pulaski square (triangle) for the past few months. I approached him today wondering if he was hungry. I gave him some food, sitting down and talking for about an hour about the crazy situation of a society where shelter sits on the street without, among many other things. It turns out he was in the army for a few years, was honorably discharged...

Seasons Greetings.

Hi. My name is Julia Eickmeier. I have an 11 month old daughter, going to be one year of age on Jan. 20, 2014. Her name is Madeline Hope Kramer. Madeline and I are new to La-Salle. We actually live right down the street from you on Marquette in the downtown area. We moved here from Princeton, Illinois. I had Madeline going to a preschool program there for ages 0 - 3 years called early beginnings. It was at Douglas Elementary School. Lynn Ferrell is the coordinator. It is a transitional program for kids to get them used to the routine of going to the school so that by the time they actually start going to preschool they would be comfortable with the environment and used to going there. Madeline is really bright and flourished in the learning environment and structured play groups that early beginnings had to offer. I was wondering if your school had any programs we could get Madeline steadily involved in at her age? What are the requirements? I heavily researched while pregnant, the Montessori school theories and the research and studies backing up a child's natural growth process and how the Montessori school goes in line with a child's natural learning process. (etc.) I am personally very
